You will not have too much of a day to enjoy the city and visit its monuments: the old and the new fortress both dating from the 16th century; the church dedicated to Saint Spyridon, protector of the island; the Antivouniotissa Church, which houses a Byzantine art museum; the archaeological museum and the Asian art museum; Mon Repos Park and the Kanoni Peninsula; the Liston, and its French-inspired arcades; the maze of alleys of the old center ...

If the shuttles are in place (2 € go/return trip per person in 2018, at your expense), you have the opportunity to cross to the small island of Vidos that faces the city.
